

Instead of the baby buggies used by white folks, Indian mothers carry their tiny tots on cradle boards slung on their backs, leaving their hands free to carry groceries or otherwise perform their daily chores. Called "Cuma", or "A—Wee—T—Saal" by the Navajos, and "Mel—ba—zai" by the Apaches.

GENUINE CURTEICH-CHICAGO "C.T. ART-COLOR-TONE" POST CARD (REG. U.S. PAT. OFF.)

POST CARD

PLACE
STAMP
HERE

